Information for Sellers and Event Operators

Operators/organizers of craft, antique, coin, stamp or comic book shows; flea markets; convention exhibit areas; or similar events are required by Minnesota law to get written evidence that persons who do business at the show or event have a valid Minnesota tax ID number.

If a seller is not required to have a Minnesota tax ID number, the seller must give the operator a written statement that items offered for sale are not subject to sales tax.

All operators (including operators of community sponsored events and nonprofit organizations) must obtain written evidence from sellers.

Certain individual sellers are not required to register to collect sales tax if they qualify for the isolated and occasional sales exemption. To qualify, all the following conditions must be met:

- The seller participates in only one event per calendar year that lasts no more than three days;
- The seller makes sales of $500 or less during the calendar year; and
- The seller provides a written statement to that effect, and includes the seller's name, address and telephone number.

This isolated and occasional sales provision applies to individuals only. It does not apply to businesses.

Minnesota Department of Revenue
Sales & use Tax Law Change Bulletins
Revised: August 2005

Occasional sales provisions applicable at flea markets and similar events.
The law allows a seller at a flea market or other similar event to qualify for isolated and occasion sales exception if all of the following are met:

* The seller participates in only one event per calendar year that lasts no more then 3 days;

* The seller makes sales of $500 or less during the calendar year; and

* The seller provides a written statement to that effect, and includes the seller's name, address and telephone number.

Currently, the organizer of a flea market or other similar event must obtain a Certificate of Compliance, Form ST-19, from the sellers who indicate that they are not required to collect and remit sales made at the event. For purposes of this law change, an organizer can accept a written statement from sellers who make isolated or occasional sales indicating that they meet the above mentioned criteria. The isolated and occasional sale provision for businesses does not apply at these events. Effective for selling events occurring after June 15, 2005.

Please use this form if you are a Minnesota Resident or from any other State and are not required to charge sales tax. A new form is required for each Calendar year.

I meet the above mentioned criteria for occasional sales at flea markets and similar events.
